

Campus Express

Campus Express offers schools and universities the ability to share in the benefits of Campus products and services without the need of running their own database and web servers. Campus Express is a web based product that runs on a central database so there is no need to install Point of Sale hardware or offer a smartcard service should they not require a hardware presence or card program.

As Campus Express is hosted on a centralised database, schools can enjoy the benefits of Campus products with very little setup cost.

If your educational institution requires an online ordering system for parents, then Campus Express can satisfy this requirement without the need of purchasing and maintaining your own database and web servers. It is all taken care of on a central server.

Parents and schools have access to a Campus account via the internet and can control their family Campus account from anywhere in the world. Parents log on to Campus Express with their unique email address where they are directed to their Campus Express account.

Campus Express is a powerful internet application that allows school vendors to add their products to Campus Express via their vendor login allowing parents to purchase these products online. Payment for these products is debited from the virtual Campus account each family holds. Funds can be added to the Campus account via online credit card transactions.

Campus Express is equipped to handle add on hardware modules should a school decide they want to add Point of Sale equipment or a smartcard program at a later stage.

Campus Express is the ideal solution for institutions that require a low cost service that can be setup and managed online.
